Mary Ann Blitt, Margarita Casas : Exploraciones with Access Card before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Exploraciones with Access Card:

I found this one for a fraction of the cost and it was in super great condition. Everyone was jealous when they found out how much I paid for the exact same book they paid triple for! Such an awesome deal!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. False advertisingBy Bobbie B. RobertsThe book, Exploraciones with Access Card, super value was only advertised partly correct. I am auditing a class in Spanish and wanted a clean book to be able to make my own notes. Super value was correct as the book was in excellent condition. However, I think it was false advertising and a ploy to sell the book, as the access card did not work. It had been used. I gave the card to a young lady in the class, and when I asked her about the card, she said someone else had used the card, therefore, it did not work and could not be used. Thank you for your follow-up, as I had been wanting to get in touch with you to inform you of this false advertising. I knew that I needed an iLrn access code, so I went ahead and bought a new book, since typically a used book's access key will not work for a separate user. This was a great book for me as a student because of all of the pictures and vocabulary that it included. It is a very user-friendly manual even for the older students. There are tons of learning activities (picking verbs to use, tenses, vocabulary, etc.). The iLrn website had practice quizzes, learning activities, videos, and more. It was a practical option for learning the language. After finishing the class, I ended up giving the book to my brother who is just starting to learn Spanish in high school because it encompasses lots of vocabulary and verbs without going too fast. He seems to really enjoy it too.

Created through a "student-tested, faculty-approved" review process with thousands of students and hundreds of faculty, EXPLORACIONES is an engaging and accessible solution to accommodate the diverse lifestyles of today's learners.

"Teaching Exploraciones without iLrn would be like using an old flip cell phone when you could be using a smart phone. It just makes more sense in the world we live in to give students access to a great piece of technology that helps their learning." "[The instructors'] enthusiasm for particular elements in the book and in iLrn --and the knowledge that they can teach the way they want -- improves the teaching experience, the class environment, and the learning experience." About the Author Mary Ann Blitt began her Spanish studies at the age of 13 while living in Madrid, Spain. She received her B.A. in Spanish from the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, and after spending a year studying at the Universidad de Granada, she returned to the university to obtain a teaching certificate. She later attended Colorado State University, where she received her master's degree in Spanish with interdisciplinary studies in French. After teaching Spanish and coordinating the study abroad program at Metropolitan Community College-Maple Woods in Kansas City for fourteen years, she joined the faculty at College of Charleston in 2014. Mary Ann has studied in Spain, Mexico, France, and Canada and has trained teachers of English as a Foreign Language in Asuncion, Paraguay. She is currently actively involved in professional development workshops. Margarita Casas was born in Mexico City, Mexico. She completed her bachelor's degree in sciences and techniques of communication in Guadalajara, Mexico. She holds two master's degrees from Colorado State University, one in Spanish literature with an emphasis on education, and the other in Teaching English as a Second Language. Currently, she is faculty and Chair of the Foreign Language Department at Linn-Benton Community College. She has collaborated on two textbooks prior to EXPLORACIONES and has published a novel, Italia en cuatro estaciones, winner of the first literature contest of the Universidad de Guadalajara. She is an avid traveler who hopes to inspire her students to travel and see the world by themselves.
