Such inspiring stories of people that have found their "fabulous" lives. It really helps people design a life they want and tap into their unknown talents. Provides such easy methods to help you discover what to do next with your life.

What does it mean to live a fabulous life? When she left behind a successful career in the corporate world in search of more meaning, Lisa Dadd transformed more than her job. Her decision to invest in what she was meant to be in life, rather than settle for what she thought she should do for a living, began her journey to Finding Fabulous. In her quest for answers, she met and interviewed scores of individuals who dared to defy the status quo ordinary people who turned in their day jobs to follow their passions, ultimately transforming not only their jobs but their entire lives. Essentially, Finding Fabulous is about people who intentionally design a more fabulous way of living and endeavour to be it in all aspects of their lives. By sharing these real-life stories and the insights she's learned along the way, Lisa heightens our awareness of possibilities, inspiring us to consider their relevance to our own lives. Her words empower us to remove the barriers that prevent us from sharing our own fabulousness with the world, encouraging us to take control designing our own path and defining our own success as we embark on our unique journey of Finding Fabulous. Finding Fabulous will help you: Clarify your motivation to change Overcome self-limiting beliefs that hold you back Shift your mindset about the role money plays in career transformations Build a stronger support network around your decisions Evolve your perception of what's possible Redefine your definition of success Are you living your version of a fabulous life? If not What are you waiting for? "Anyone can live a more fabulous life if they put their intention and attention on what they really want. Finding Fabulous offers simple strategies to live an extraordinary life along with inspiring stories about everyday people who've done just that." MARCI SHIMOFF, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Happy for No Reason and Chicken Soup for the Woman's Soul "What happens when you make a conscious choice to follow your passions? In her new book, Lisa Dadd exposes the biggest challenges individuals encounter on their paths to finding the life of their dreams. What's more, she offers some unique solutions to help shorten that journey for the rest of us." - Janet Bray Attwood, New York Times bestselling author of The Passion Test

About the Author When she walked away from a successful career at a Fortune 100 company to find more meaning, purpose, and fun, Lisa Dadd transformed more than her job. Her decision to invest in what she was meant to be in life, rather than settle for what she was doing for a living, inspired her to interview individuals who had also turned in their day jobs to follow their passions. In her first book, Finding Fabulous, Paving the Path between Paycheck and Passion, Lisa shares what she learned from those interviews and dares us to consider whether or not we are living our own version of fabulous. Taking her own advice, Lisa has intentionally redesigned her life to allow more time and flexibility to travel, learn new skills, and explore new business opportunities. Blurring the lines between work and play, Lisa's greatest inspirations have come from her adventures driving across North America with her dog and hiking to places like the Base Camp of Mt. Everest and Machu Picchu. Splitting her time between her lakefront cottage in Northern Ontario and sunny Southern California, Lisa exemplifies what Finding Fabulous is all about. Currently, Lisa writes, consults and speaks on topics related to life and career redesign. Combining fifteen years of strategic business skills with real-life experience, Lisa provides practical, relevant advice for anyone tired of feeling stuck and ready to take action.
