David B. Bennett : How to: Get out of default on your federal student loans. before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised How to: Get out of default on your federal student loans.:

I want to help you get out of default on your federal student loans. I know that that sounds like a daunting task, but it is not. You have the ability to get out of default and back on track! I have been a collector for many years. While I am not a lawyer and can't guarantee results; I have seen the process first hand and can give you some control and guideposts throughout the process. This 28 page booklet can provide you with options before dealing with the collection agency! Are your federal student loans in default? Arm yourself with some straightforward facts before the collection agency calls. Regain control based on the facts, laws, and regulations; not their terms! Are you tired of the collection calls over your defaulted student loans? During these hard personal and economic times, there is an answer. There are options! You are not alone! You have the right to get out of default and I will detail some of the process and options available! You do not have to be run-over or handled in a ruff shot manner by the collection agencies! You can remain in control!
